Overview

- Global markets rallied strongly in November, as the US election result and positive vaccine announcements caused markets to look optimistically towards a post-Trump, post-COVID future. This saw all major global indices deliver double-digit positive returns.
- The Australian market also performed strongly, with the ASX300 Accumulation Index delivering its strongest return in many years, finishing the month up +10.2% to be only -9% below its pre-COVID high. The month also saw a large number of positive trading updates from companies across a range of sectors.
- The Trust delivered a very strong return of +13.4%, outperforming the market by +3.2%, as improving global growth prospects saw markets begin to rotate out of expensive growth stocks and towards the better value, more cyclical parts of the market.
- Since the market's low, the Trust has performed well, returning +52.3% and outperforming the market by +5.8%.

Trust Review

Global markets rallied strongly in November, as the US election result and positive vaccine announcements caused markets to look optimistically towards a post-Trump, post-COVID future. This saw all major global indices deliver double-digit positive returns on the prospect of a recovery in economic activity and growth as well as a return to a more stable global political environment.

The Australian market also performed strongly, with the ASX300 Accumulation Index delivering its strongest return in many years, finishing the month up +10.2% to be only -9% below its pre-COVID high. The Trust delivered a very strong return of +13.4%, outperforming the market by +3.2%, as improving global growth prospects saw markets begin to rotate out of expensive growth stocks and towards the better value, more cyclical parts of the market.

Since the market's low, the Trust has performed well, returning +52.4% and outperforming the market by +5.8%. Over this period, many of the Trust's holdings have rallied strongly, as it is during recovery phases that value stocks often deliver significant outperformance. The Trust has also benefitted from very strong performances from a number of stocks which we acquired at very attractive prices during the selloff.

Energy (+28.2%) was the best performing sector over the month, as the prospect of economic reopening lifted the oil price, which had been languishing at low levels since the onset of COVID. The Trust is overweight the Energy sector, with holdings in Santos (+30.2%) and Origin Energy (+29.5%), which both performed strongly.

Financials (+16.1%) also performed strongly, led by the major banks, which were up an average of +18.9%. Profit results and trading updates from the banks during the month highlighted that, while earnings were under pressure due to slow credit growth and low interest rates, the ultimate outcome in terms of bad debts due to COVID impacts is likely to be significantly less bad than initially feared. This is best highlighted by the fact that the vast majority of both mortgages and business loans have been able to resume full repayments once their deferral period has ended. Importantly, capital positions were strong and dividend payments were resumed. Given the high level of provisioning undertaken, and the strong capital positions, as conditions improve, it is likely that the banks will be able to increase their dividends significantly over the coming years. Combining this with their undemanding valuations, we still see meaningful upside and remain overweight the sector.

Other strong performers included NewsCorp (+32.7%), with the market finally beginning to recognise some of the hidden value in its digital media assets. The improved outlook saw commodity prices rise and solid gains from resources stocks, with holdings in Alumina (+22.0%), Bluescope Steel (+16.6%) and BHP (+12.7%) all outperforming.

Holdings which detracted from performance over the month included Newcrest (-7.9%) with the gold sector selling off as the market moved to risk-on mode.

Trust Activity

During the month positions were decreased in Ampol (+18.2%) and increased in Medibank (+6.7%). At month end the portfolio comprised 22 names and 4.3% cash.

Outlook

November may well mark a significant turning point for the global economy and markets, with the prospects of a near-term roll-out of an effective COVID vaccine underpinning the reopening of economies and a return to growth. Importantly also, the change of leadership in the US should usher in a period of stability in terms of domestic and international policy and, hopefully, a generally more harmonious backdrop. The election result of a Biden win with a Republican Senate, means there is likely to be increased fiscal stimulus, although not of the scale originally proposed. Similarly, tax increases are less likely and interest rates are likely to remain low. On balance, this should be positive for economic growth, corporate earnings and markets overall.

The domestic outlook seems increasingly positive, with COVID largely under control, activity levels increasing, restrictions being eased and borders reopening. Key indicators around employment, loan deferrals and the property market are all surprising to the upside. Further, the economy is underpinned by historically low interest rates and meaningful fiscal stimulus. If this improvement continues, then corporate earnings and dividends are likely to rebound strongly over the coming year.

The Trust is positioned to benefit from an ongoing economic improvement and our focus remains on investing in quality companies with proven business models and strong balance sheets, which are offering attractive valuations and have the ability to deliver high levels of franked dividend income to investors.
