Trust Review

Better performing holdings over the month included BHP (+2.8%), which outperformed after announcing the sale of its US shale oil operations for US$10.8bn. The sale represents an important step in BHP refocussing on its core operations in iron ore, copper, coal and conventional petroleum. Given the already strong balance sheet, the bulk of the sale proceeds will be returned to investors through a combination of higher dividends and buy-backs. Along with the current strong commodity prices, it is this ability to return significant amounts of capital and franking credits to shareholders which makes BHP very attractive as an investment.

The major banks also outperformed, delivering an average return of +2.6%. Sentiment towards the sector is still negative due to the combination of the Royal Commission and concerns around the outlook for the housing market. However, while the growth outlook for the banks is definitely very muted, they are trading on attractive valuations and offering compelling dividend yields. At current prices, the sector is paying an average FY19 gross dividend yield of 8.9%.

Other stocks which outperformed included Downer (+8.8%), Telstra (+8.4%), Flight Centre (+6.8%), Perpetual (+4.9%), Tabcorp (+4.7%), and Stockland (+4.5%).

The main detractors from performance were IAG Insurance (-5.7%), Platinum Asset Management (-4.5%), Graincorp (-3.5%) and Rio Tinto (-2.7%).

Trust Activity

During the month, we took profits and trimmed holdings in a number of stocks which had performed strongly over recent months including Macquarie Group and Coca-Cola Amatil, with proceeds being reinvested into CBA and Rio Tinto. At month end, stock numbers were 31 and cash was 3.4%.

Distribution

In order to provide a more regular income stream, commencing in January 2018, the Trust has moved from paying quarterly to monthly distributions. We will aim to pay equal cash distributions each month, based on our estimate of the income to be generated over the year. Franking credits and any realised capital gains will then be distributed, as per usual, with the June distribution. This aims to give investors more certainty over their income payments.

Outlook

Despite the ongoing negative political atmosphere, the economic backdrop continues to be positive, both domestically and offshore, with healthy growth and low unemployment in most major regions. This is supportive of ongoing moderate corporate earnings growth, healthy resources demand and financial system stability. The portfolio is exposed to this dynamic through its positions in the large-cap, low-cost resource stocks, the major banks and a range of quality industrials. We continue to avoid those sectors of the market where valuations are high and those which are exposed to the risk of rising interest rates such as Healthcare, REITs and Infrastructure.

The Trust continues to offer a higher forecast gross yield than the overall market and, as always, our focus will continue to be on investing in quality companies which are offering attractive valuations and have the ability to deliver high levels of franked dividend income to investors. Further, we believe the current very low interest rates highlight the relative attractiveness of financially-sound, high dividend yielding equities.
